COURT REPORTER

March 25, 1958

Hon. J. Edgar Hoover,
F. B. I.,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I can assure you that I appreciate your letter of the 19th very much which just reached me. When I wrote asking you for a copy of your book I certainly did not intend that you send it to me autographed and free of charge. However, I appreciate this greatly.

I have talked about your book and about your anti-Communist activities to several juries in the various parts of the district where I have been holding court, and I hope that you will get some orders for "Masters of Deceit". It is hard to impress upon the people the necessity for work against Communism, and very hard to make many of them believe that it is a real menace in our country. Ever since the late Senator McCarthy died the work against Communism certainly died in the United States Senate.

It appears that since the present administration--and I am a life-long Republican--is feeding the Communists like Tito, Gumulko, and India with American cash that there is no desire on the part of the administration to combat Communism. Still the President asks for great sums of money, almost four billion dollars, and says that it's for foreign aid with which to fight Communism. How can that be true under the circumstances?

Again I want to thank you for your very fine letter.

Very sincerely yours,

AB:dlb

MASTERS OF DECEIT

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : The Director

DATE: 3-27-58

FROM : J. P. Mohr

SUBJECT: The Congressional Record

Pages A2915-A2916, Congresswoman Bolton, (R) Ohio, in commenting on the book "Masters of Deceit" stated "America has waited many years for J. Edgar Hoover's intimate, down-to-earth picture of communism at work in the land of the free..... I hope every American will make an effort to read this book." She pointed out that Lawrence Sullivan, Coordinator of Information in the House of Representatives, had written "a most interesting review of Mr. Hoover's book." She included this review with her remarks. Mr. Sullivan stated "As a history of our times, Hoover's book illuminates in compelling perspective all of the major economic, political, and international confusions of the 20th century. It is, truly, a once-in-a-lifetime memoir. If, somehow, this book could be gotten into the hands of 10 million Americans, today's gravest challenge to world peace soon would be uprooted and destroyed, like a poison-ivy weed in a beautiful garden."

FROM : J. P. Mohr

SUBJECT: The Congressional Record

Tenn. Page A2922, Congressman Keating, (R) New York, extended his remarks concerning the book "Masters of Deceit." He stated "one of the finest reviews of J. Edgar Hoover's important book, Masters of Deceit, has been penned by Jack Carley, of the staff of the Memphis Commercial Appeal. As Mr. Carley so clearly points out, this book is a guidebook to the day-to-day operations of the nefarious Communist conspiracy, and it emphasizes that we must not slacken our efforts to combat these subversives just because on the surface their membership has declined." Mr. Keating included the review. Mr. Carley stated "Mr. Hoover has more than succeeded admirably in setting out in exact detail the mind and mechanics of this free-world enemy. In its authoritativeness and presentation, Masters of Deceit measures up in every way to the perfectionist standards the FBI's Director sets for the organization he has developed and led for so many achieving years."

We have reviewed the twenty-sixth installment of the King Features syndication furnished by Henry Holt. It is taken from Chapter 22, dealing with what the citizen can do to help fight communism.

As in past installments, the text has been shortened, changed at points and some sentences reworded. The general theme, however, remains. We have made some minor changes in consultation with the Domestic Intelligence Division.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter over Mr. Tolson's signature be forwarded to Mr. Buckley of Henry Holt, enclosing the corrected text of the 26th installment.

Dear Mr. Tolson:

masters of Deceit

Thank you very much indeed for the time you gave me when I called on you in Washington. I know what a busy schedule you have, and it is for this reason I am particularly grateful for your taking time out to talk to me.

I am enclosing a list of the papers to which I think it will be helpful if Mr. Hoover would send autographed copies, providing that he knows individuals on them. Perhaps there are some you may wish to add, or others you want to delete.

We are sending you, under separate cover, a number of cards such as the enclosed which I know you will be kind enough to have inserted in each copy of MASTERS OF DECEIT. I appreciate your willingness to have this done. I'm always fearful of newspapers breaking release dates and the cards should help, at least to some extent.

You may recall my having asked what you thought of the idea of sending an autographed copy to Mr. [redacted] Marshall Field and Company in Chicago. Mr. Hoover said he did not know him, so perhaps you will not think it a good idea to send a copy. Our sales manager felt that it might mean a number of sales, which is the reason I made the suggestion.

I also mentioned to Mr. Hoover that it might be nice if he sent an autographed copy to Cardinal [redacted] of Los Angeles since other important prelates in other cities had been included in Mr. Hoover's list.

The six hundred copies of MASTERS OF DECEIT will undoubtedly go along to you on Friday of this week or Monday of next.

Thank you very much for recognizing the urgency of getting books to the press first. I am particularly anxious that the San Francisco Chronicle, the Chicago Tribune, and the New York Herald Tribune receive their copies as early as possible since their book review sections make up so far ahead.

Obviously, I shall be sending books to the reviewers on these papers, and, in fact, I have already sent them bound pages. Nonetheless, autographed copies from Mr. Hoover would mean much in stressing the urgency of the message in his book, and the necessity for news coverage in order to alert the public.

Again, my sincere thanks for your interest and help. Needless to say, we are grateful beyond words to know that you are planning big things from your own office, publicity-wise. As you said, it would seem to me that March 1st would be a good time to start advance comments in columns.

Dear Mr. DeLoach:

I do want you to know that I am most grateful for the time and attention you gave me while I was in Washington last week. It was a fascinating tour, and a most educational one.

I am looking forward to receiving some of the charts and other data on communism in America, though I know it is also included in the book. There might be something in the material that would help me with publicity and releases. I should particularly like to get the graph, which I might send out to newspapers with review copies if you agree that this is a good idea.

As I promised you, I am enclosing copies of letters to Mr. Hoover and Mr. Tolson, in order to keep you informed as to what we are about. I know how much you will be helping us, and you may be assured that we are deeply grateful.

Little did I know what a shot I was! Or were those bullets magnetized? If not, I'm heading for the west and the prairie.

'Red' Threat Is Exposed

MASTERS OF DECEIT. By J. Edgar Hoover. (Holt. 374 pages. $5.)

The sense of immediacy with which the Communist threat to the United States is set forth is undoubtedly the chief value of this latest work by the chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Carefully, clearly and thoroughly, Mr. Hoover tells in "Masters of Deceit" how Communism developed from a theory in the warped brain of Karl Marx, got its first real start under Lenin with the October Revolution in 1917 in Russia, and has since planted its seeds in America, to become the greater peril for the simple reason that the Communist Party's decline in numbers here has lulled our people into a false sense of security.

The author stresses, as emphatically as he can do so, the fact that world Communism thinks of a Communist America in terms of the here and now. He points out what the triumph of Communism would mean to the liberties Americans now take for granted. His warning that such a dire fate could overtake us unless we are constantly vigilant is one to which every thinking, patriotic American should give heed.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Congratulations on the book "Masters of Deceit". It is a most revealing book on Communistic activities.

This book would have a much wider circulation if it were possible to have this printed in a paper cover. Most of my business associates wish to read it, but feel that the price of $5.00 is too much for their pocketbook.

Would it be possible to have this printed in a less expensive form?

I have a long list of friends anxious to read this book. I have it out on circulation.

My dear Mr. Hoover:

As a Priest of the Episcopal Church I am deeply grateful to you for your "Masters of Deceit."

If I may be so presumptuous as to offer any criticism it is only this: you should have written this book ten years ago. It would have spared us from the tragedy and horror of McCarthy and McCarthyism.

I think I ought to be honest enough to tell you that I am going to get a very large portion of my Easter Sermon from the last portion of your book: "If communists can be so inspired from error, falsehood, and hate, just think what we could do with truth, justice, and love! I thrill to think of the even greater wonders America could fashion from its rich, glorious, and deep tradition. All we need is faith, real faith."

The communist prides himself on being a revolutionary---and revolutionary he is in the sense of destruction, terror, and violence. Free men can learn here too: the true revolutionary force of history is not material power but the spirit of religion. The world today needs a true revolution of the fruitful spirit, not the futile sword. Hypocrisy, dishonesty, hatred, all these must be destroyed and man must rule by love, charity and mercy."

As an obscure Parson in an obscure village--Kinderhook, New York I am deeply grateful for these words. If the FBI has a building they should be cast in bronze and placed above its doorway.

Sincerely yours,

St. Paul's Church, Kinderhook, N. Y.

CRIME REC.

Edgar Hoover On Ex-Reds Help

It is clear that more American Communists are continuing to break with the Communist Party because they have come to see it for what it is, an instrument of repression, not a means to better social and economic conditions.

What isn't clear is whether many Americans are yet willing to extend a helping hand and to create the climate which encourages the doubting Communists to free themselves from the grip of the Party.

This needs to be done and no one with better credentials can begin to do it than J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It cannot be argued that Mr. Hoover is "soft" on Communism when he argues that we ought to take a friendly, understanding helpful attitude toward fellow Americans who sincerely want to break their Communist bonds and resume their place in the company of free men.

THIS ARGUMENT Mr. Hoover makes vigorously and persuasively in his new book, "Masters of Deceit," just published by Hamilton Holt and Co. It will undoubtedly win a wide readership and one will hope that its readers will not lightly pass over Mr. Hoover's wise and humane chapter on "Why People Break with Communism"—and how to help.

The opportunity is at hand as never before. Communism's own admission of the bloody and capricious tyranny of Stalin kindled the doubts of Communists nearly everywhere, including many in the United States. Then, when the Kremlin turned its guns on the workers of Hungary, who wanted nothing but their own freedom—this helped more Communist to see the kind of thing in which they had become imprisoned.

"Always we must keep in mind," Mr. Hoover writes, "that Communists, even hard-core Communists, potentially can be converted. To the individual who asserts: 'Once a Communist, always a Communist,' I say, 'No, every Communist can be made to see the errors of his way. He must not be despised, belittled, or rejected as hopelessly lost. He can redeem himself by actively taking a stand for freedom. Every patriotic American must do what he can to bring these persons to see the truth. The ex-Communist is today one of our most potent weapons against Communism.'"

Mr. Hoover notes how a Seattle newspaperman, by counsel and encouragement, helped Barbara Hartle, once one of the West Coast's most dedicated Communist functionaries, break with the Party. The defections are mounting. Besides Louis Budenz, Bella Dodd and others, the de-converted Communists include such distinguished defectors as John Gates, former editor of the now defunct "Daily Worker," Joseph Clarke, former foreign editor, and Howard Fast, the American novelist, winner of the Stalin Award.

THE DIRECTOR of the F. B. I. makes this appeal to doubting American Communists who want to return to freedom:

"If, having knowledge of persons and activities detrimental to this country, he breaks from the Party, yet maintains silence, he is still aiding the enemy. The moral obligations involved cannot be met by silence. The choice is simple: Help the United States. The man who does this . . . is protecting the American way of life for free men and women—including his family and himself."

And this appeal to fellow-Americans to help:

"These people deserve the nation's respect, and their neighbors' fair-minded forgiveness for their past devotion to Communism. Their means of livelihood must be protected, and loyal Americans must accept their sincere repentance as a return to the full scope of citizenship. All great religions teach that the sinner can always redeem himself. Who, then, shall sit in judgment on the ex-Communist? Who dare deny him the promise held out to those who repent of the evil they have done and why try to make amends?"

"For our part, at the F. B. I., we have always sought to recognize the very real human and personal problems facing ex-Communists who have come to our offices to make such amends."

In his book Mr. Hoover significantly points out that current F.B.I. interviews reveal that many men and women inside the Communist movement are in various stages of doubt and disillusionment. He calls such gathering doubts very good omens.

'Goofed'

EDITOR: The splendid article by George E. Sokolsky in The Call-Bulletin, wherein he takes the New York Times book reviewer, John B. Oakes, over the coals for the latter's idiotic, presumptuous review of J. Edgar Hoover's new book, "Masters Of Deceit," is worth commenting on. The slogan of the Times always has been, "All the news that's fit to print." They goofed with this review. Oakes' comments, deriding, as they do, one of the finest Americans this land has produced, are not fit to print.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, District of Columbia

Dear Mr. Hoover;

Through the kindness of my highly esteemed friend, Mr. [redacted] I received an autographed copy of your book entitled, "Masters of Deceit", for which I am deeply grateful.

To render a true appraisal of your masterpiece I would need your own expert pen. I wish to say, however, that my first reading of your book reveals a terrifying image of the "communist man"--- a man who is shorn of all noble attributes and cast into a sink of iniquity where "Fair is foul, and foul is fair", there to "Boil and bubble" in fiendish hate until, at last, he emerges all sweet and pure as a new man, to dwell in a paradise of delights which will be peopled only by loving and beloved comrades. There is no kind of "Opium" that can so transform a man. Such a metamorphosis requires downright wizardry!

It is truly said, "No man is a prophet in his own country", but in this instance I trust that the American people will give heed to your warning. Here in our seminary for the Catholic priesthood your book will be studied and treasured by both faculty and students.

Sincerely yours,

March 27, 1958

Enclosed is a copy of "Masters of Deceit," which is the property of [redacted] an official in the Office of Security, Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). [redacted] has asked the Liaison Agent if the Director would be kind enough to autograph the book. Over the years, [redacted] has been most cooperative with the Bureau. He handles numerous requests of a special and sensitive nature submitted through Liaison channels and through our Washington Field Office. His attitude has always been exceptionally friendly. He has read the book and is asking his immediate subordinates to obtain copies so that the publication will be readily available for reference purposes.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is respectfully recommended that the book be autographed by the Director. The suggested autograph is "Best Wishes." The book will be returned to [redacted] by Liaison.

Mr. Nease:

Almost half of the men presently attending the 61st Session of the FBI National Academy have purchased copies of "Masters of Deceit." Most favorable comments have been received from the men regarding the book, and the reception to it has been outstanding.

In response to numerous inquiries from class members, the entire class was advised that the book would be available to them at the regular Bureau price of $2.95. One of the officers asked if it would be possible for the Director to autograph a copy to him. He was told that his request would be brought to the Director's attention.

At the present time forty-one of those men purchasing the book have requested that the Director autograph it to them.

Every officer attending the FBI National Academy has been investigated and found to be entirely acceptable. These men represent fountains of good will in police departments in all parts of the country, and it is believed great good can come from the Director autographing the books to the officers.

Unless advised to the contrary, the autograph legend cards will be prepared and the books will be forwarded to you Monday.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I was so very pleased and honored to receive that autographed copy of your great book, "Masters of Deceit."

Through some thirty years of active newspaper work, in peace and in war, I've sensed the hand of our Communist foe -- from Union Square to East Berlin. Thanks to your brilliant writing he is seen clearly now as the most deadly menace we've ever faced.

Your book is a most timely warning to all Americans. It not only unmasks the enemy, but, most importantly, it tells us how to fight him.

Pray God we never relax our vigilance.

Sincerely,

My Dear Mr. Hoover: ✓

MASTERS OF DECEIT is the answer to my prayers. THE FBI STORY was very powerful and timely but, this recent book: "MASTERS OF DECEIT," is too powerful and wonderful and beyond words of sincere praise.

I am an average American and well aware of what is happening in our nation. I voice my feelings constantly in the press and to the Senate and Congress of the United States. In my place of business I take it upon myself to defend the FBI concerning the great work it is performing for every American citizen.

The liberals and the United States Supreme Court have made and are still making your battles difficult in regards to Communist. I have asked Senator Bridges to investigate the Supreme Court. I have also appealed to people to write to Washington concerning the Warren Court.

My heart breaks and I grow angry when I hear people knock the FBI. In conclusion, kindly accept my sincere congratulations on MASTERS OF DECEIT. God love you and guide you.

Reference is made to the attached letter dated March 27, 1958, from The Whitney Company, Chicago, Illinois, which takes violent exception to Chapter 19 of the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit." Mr. disputes Mr. Hoover's statement that the Anti-Defamation League has been anti-communist. "It would be interesting to know the evidence on which you base your conclusion as to this organization offering effective opposition to communism, since there is considerable opinion in the opposite direction."

From other remarks in the letter it appears that has very fixed opinions concerning the Anti-Defamation League which are not likely to be easily changed. For that reason, it is felt that we should not acknowledge his letter. Our reply would probably lead to further hostile argumentation on his part and cause him to write additional letters. It is felt that the best interests of the Bureau would be served by not replying.

Bufiles reflect no record on or The Whitney Company.

RECOMMENDATION:

That letter not be acknowledged.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In Chapter 19 of your book "Masters of Deceit" you state, "Some of the most effective opposition to communism in the United States has come from Jewish organizations such as --, the Anti-Defamation League."

Inasmuch as the majority of names are Jewish of those exposed as part of the communist conspiracy against the United States, it would seem that the general public is justified in believing that communism makes some peculiar appeal to Jews, and I do know that the Anti-Defamation League has been identified by numerous informed writers as part of the communist conspiracy.

It would be interesting to know the evidence on which you base your conclusion as to this organization offering effective opposition to communism, since there is considerable opinion in the opposite direction.

It would seem that if you had offered evidence as to specific instances in which this one organization had demonstrated its opposition to communism you would have made a considerable contribution to right what seems weighty adverse opinion.

It has been my observation that hatred of Senator Joseph McCarthy is an identifying symbol by which one can easily spot those who support, in more or less measure, the communist conspiracy against the United States, and I believe I have made it plain that there are that kind of peculiar thinkers on the staff of the Christian Science Monitor, where a Christian Scientist is surely loathe to find them.

There are many instances in which the A.D.L. has manifested its intense dislike for Senator McCarthy, very much in the same intensity as expressed in the Daily Worker and the Monitor.

You are, of course, aware of the recent effort of the A.D.L. to demonstrate its influence over the thinking of members of Congress, by sending out "or else" invitations to members of Congress to be present at the League's presentation of a plaque to Congress, as a symbol of its influence. Previously this stunt had been pulled on two Presidents of the United States. Such things hardly demonstrate a deep appreciation of our kind of government.

This bookshop has a very attractive display of the Director's book "Masters of Deceit", and colored photographs, which are forwarded herewith, were taken of this display by [redacted] Supervisory Photographer (Still), GS-8, at night in color with a speed graphic camera. I thought the Bureau would be interested in seeing this attractive display of the Director's book.

The proprietor of the Carlton Bookshop, Inc., is Mr. [redacted] and he has advised that he prepared this window display personally, and that he is very proud of the results. During this conversation Mr. [redacted] said that he has never knowingly sold or displayed any Communist or pro-Communist books and that he has refused to handle books written by persons of known Communist sympathy. He exhibited a summer, 1957 issue of "All American Books" in which he is mentioned as a book dealer who refused to handle Communist books.

Mr. [redacted] was very pleased that we desired to photograph his window and offered his full cooperation. He indicated that he would be most appreciative if the Director would autograph a copy of the book for him. He would also like to receive an autographed photograph of the Director. He expressed his great admiration for both the Director and the Bureau.

Mr. [redacted] will furnish a copy of the book in the near future which will then be forwarded to the Bureau for the Director's signature.

A check of the New York Office indices fails to reveal any identifiable information with either [redacted] Inc., or Mr. [redacted].

FEATURING GEORGIANA HARDY AND TURNLEY WALKER

Our 242nd Telecast

THE GOLDEN BOUGH — Sir James G. Frazer (Macmillan $3.95)

In a single volume, this is the original condensation made by Sir James Frazer himself. It is the story of man's bitter struggle to emerge from a tragic welter of fears, magic, wizardry, taboos and superstitions into a clearer understanding of the world we live in. A book that belongs on the shelves of every home.

SUNSET WESTERN CAMPSITE DIRECTORY (Lane $1.00)

Right today, as the motoring, camping, exploring season starts in the west coast states, this complete list of public campsites in the seven Western states and Hawaii is the most important to own. If you already know where you plan to go, this will be invaluable. If you want suggestions, read the text and study the maps and photos of camps in all these states plus selected camps in Colorado, Montana, New Mexico, Wyoming, British Columbia and Baja California.

*HOLY BIBLE from the Peshitta — Lamsa translation (Holman $12.50)

Dr. George M. Lamsa, a native Assyrian who speaks, reads and writes Aramaic, the language of Jesus and his disciples has translated this, the authorized Bible of the Church of the East into English direct from the Aramaic (Syriac) manuscripts. His commentaries, based on original research, are of tremendous value in the correct interpretation of the Bible and many of its more difficult passages.

THE WINE OF LIFE — Charles Gorham (Dial $4.95)

Honore de Balzac was the greatest story-teller of his age, but his most exciting story was the one he lived, the lusty bawdy, teeming story of his life. Charles Gorham gives us, in this volume, the living, breathing Balzac, striding through these pages, swinging his jeweled cane, roaring with laughter and spreading devastation among his many women admirers.

MASTERS OF DECEIT — J. Edgar Hoover (Holy $5.00)

The Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here writes the story of Communism in America and how to fight it. Probably no American knows more about this over-shadowing peril to all our institutions and liberties as American citizens. Mr. Hoover shows the day-to-day operations of the Communist Party, USA; who the communists are, what they claim, why some people become communists and why some break away. A most important book.

LIFE PLUS 99 YEARS — Nathan F. Leopold (Doubleday $5.50)

Written in the Illinois State Penitentiary at Stateville, this extraordinary autobiography traces every step in the plot with Richard Loeb to make the murder of Bobby Franks the "perfect crime," the brilliant defense by Clarence Darrow and his life as a prisoner for 34 years. The granting of his parole is spot news today.

MARXISM AND FREEDOM — Raya Dunayevskaya (Bookman $6.00)

Miss Dunayevskaya will be speaking at UCLA, Pomona College, Whittier College and Pepperdine this week, telling of her deep insight into Marxism and its relation to present day Communism. Her book is a pioneering anti-Communist study that seeks to re-establish an understanding of Marxism in its original form, not as perverted by the Kremlin. She was at one time secretary to Leon Trotsky until she broke with him in 1939.

GUESTS OF THE WEEK

*DR. GEORGE M. LAMSA whose many devoted friends in Southern California will be delighted to hear him talk about his own translation of the Bible.

RAYA DUNAYEVSKAYA who has her own anti-communistic dialectic on the meaning of Marxism as related to the present Russian regime.

An Expert Speaks

THE DEVASTATING job Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation has done on Communism in his new book, "Masters of Deceit," is recommended reading. He has thoroughly demolished the fiction that Communism is just another political philosophy that has to be tolerated and defended as a "right" in a free country.

Nearly 40 years of intensive study have convinced Mr. Hoover that the real and only purpose of Communism in America is to destroy human freedom, and he proves the point to the complete satisfaction of all who read his book with open minds, and with total refutation of all who dispute its truth.

Tolerance of Communism, as Mr. Hoover says, is not a virtue but a folly. It is a philosophy that goes to "the utter depths of depravity, hate and human venom."

Communists do not seek merely to change or remodel or reform the American form of government. Let Mr. Hoover describe their real intention.

"They would tear it to the ground, destroy all opposition, and then create a new government, an American province in the Soviet world empire."

That is what Communism means.

That is what American Communists intend.

That is what Americans who are tolerant about Communism, complacent about it and apologetic for it, lend themselves to. They protest their innocence as to any affiliation with Communism, but they give it the shelter and the nourishment and the encouragement of their defensive attitudes, and are partners in the contemplated destruction of American liberty.

Mr. Hoover's new book is an honest, courageous, authoritative and fully documented exposure of the Communist conspiracy against American freedom and it has taken its place among the important papers of our times.

Deming/H

An Evil Pretender

AS MANY PEOPLE are discovering, J. Edgar Hoover has given the country a new and important book in his study of Communism called "Masters of Deceit," and it is already becoming an authentic and challenging text book on the vital field it covers.

One of the outstanding passages was the summary Mr. Hoover made of the lessons our free society has learned from continuing experience with the history and methods of Communism. He said the most important among these lessons is that:

"The communist party is attempting to exploit the rise of materialism, irreligion, and lack of faith in our society.

"In an era when moral standards have been lowered, when family life has been disrupted, when crime and juvenile delinquency rates are high, Communists have tried to set forth a goal—dressed in attractive phrases—that would captivate the longings and hopes of men and women.

"They have, in truth, tried to 'steal' the nobility, the fervor, the enthusiasm of a free government under God."

The dramatic thing Mr. Hoover has accomplished here is to turn the full glare of the spotlight of national recognition upon the most basic of all Communist characteristics—that an utterly evil force wears the robes of noble purpose in order to deceive and destroy the freedom and the peace of mankind.

Communists dress themselves in the highest moral and spiritual guise, and have no compunction about total recourse to the lowest forms of deceit and betrayal. They despise all concepts of faith and integrity, and yet they glibly speak of the divine sources of human wisdom and inspiration as if they honored these things which they really hold in the deepest contempt.

In stealing the phrases and the garb of decency and dignity, Communism only makes itself absurd and grotesque.

It defies and defiles the morality of the human race, and mocks at justice and brotherhood even while it attempts the pose of honor and integrity.

While pretending to deplore the threatened disintegration of home and family and of our whole society, it incites and instigates impressionable youth to crime and degrading social conduct. It provides professional and beginning criminals alike, adults and juveniles, with the opportunities and weapons of criminal behavior, and taunts them with the seeming lure and profits of a way of life that leads only to despair and destruction.

For this and a whole bookful of similar reasons, Mr. Hoover's book commands national attention and respect. In giving America the whole and authentic truth about Communism, he has left his countrymen without reason or excuse for ignorance or complacency about this conspiracy against our national survival.

J. Edgar Hoover

They're Still Around

TWO UNDERCOVER agents for the federal bureau of investigation—one a slender, soft-spoken New Hampshire housewife—have testified in Boston before the House subcommittee on Un-American Activities.

Their testimony reinforces a basic point that J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, makes in his magnificent book, "Masters of Deceit." Mr. Hoover expressed it as follows:

"Today, as I write these words, my conclusions remain the same. Communism is the major menace of our time."

Mrs. Carol H. Foster of Nashua, N. H., and Armando Penha of Fairhaven, Mass., who at great risk to their safety became counter agents of the FBI within Communist ranks, have offered factual corroboration in Boston. Out of their stories has come a picture of Communist underground activities in New England, that extended into at least one area of communication (radio broadcasts), into a labor union, and comprised ceaseless exploitation of the Communist line at community levels.

Here, also, is a rebuttal out of actual experience to the efforts of some Americans, either out of incredible naivete or wilful distortion, to depreciate Mr. Hoover's book. They argue that because the open membership of the Communist party has declined, the Communist menace is no longer important.

This is like saying that because that part of an iceberg above the surface is melting, the 90 per cent below the surface ceases to be a danger.

It would be a good idea if such critics were to read the testimony of Mrs. Foster and Mr. Penha.

By reference from the Director's Office shortly before noon today I talked with a Mr. McClatchy of the New York office of ABC who stated that his New York office had been approached by King Features in connection with the syndication of the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit." McClatchy indicated that King Features suggested the possibility of ABC contacting the Director concerning a television appearance with regard to "Masters of Deceit."

McClatchy stated that he was just exploring the possibility and that the thought occurred to him that the forum-type program entitled "Open Hearing" which is on at 4:00 p.m. Sunday would be a good opportunity for the Director to discuss his book. He stated that he would like to have the program during the period when the book is being syndicated and he thought April 20 would be the best date. The program can be handled either in Washington or New York.

I thanked McClatchy for his interest and told him the matter would be called to Mr. Hoover's attention. I definitely indicated to him, however, Mr. Hoover had received numerous such requests and in view of his pressing schedule, I was positive the Director could not consider his invitation. McClatchy stated that should Mr. Hoover later find that he could give consideration to it, he would appreciate being called.

RECOMMENDATION:

No further action.

 of New York advised Mr. McGuire today that in connection with his efforts to have favorable items regarding the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit," made on programs of entertainers personally known to him that he had previously, when a similar venture was made in connection with the Don Whitehead book on the Bureau, had his assistant  come to the Bureau at which time we worked up various items concerning Whitehead's book which were handed to the entertainers and used as a script in giving a plug for that particular book.  recalled that in that venture Don Whitehead was available to appear on programs and he felt certain the Director would not want to appear on any programs in connection with his book.  was told that this was correct.

 then stated he would like to have  stop in my office on Friday of this week, April 4, to see just what can and cannot be done in helping to get some material that can be used by the entertainers in giving the Director's book some favorable publicity. McGuire told  we would be glad to see . What we would be able to do here is to give some brief descriptive data on what is covered in the book and what it deals with so that persons like Jack Paar, Dave Garroway, Perry Como, etc., would have a copy in their hand so that they would know just what they could say. I am having the Crime Records Section prepare this type of material so that we can discuss it with  when he comes down on Friday.

 then referred to the contemplated magazine advertisement which Chesterfield had in mind in giving a salute to law enforcement.  stated that he had talked to the president of Liggett-Myers and both were agreed that any advertisement could not with propriety utilize a photograph of the Director as to do so would place the Director in a position of endorsing Chesterfield cigarettes.  stated he was sure something could be worked out and we agreed with him.

Memo to Mr. Tolson

[] has in mind showing the salute addressed to men of law enforcement and then point out that numerous chiefs of police and officials of local law enforcement agencies received training at the FBI National Academy at Quantico. [] has enough pictures to utilize showing close ups of particular studies such as Laboratory scenes which we had previously furnished to him. He needs, however, an informal scene of officers currently attending the National Academy who make a suitable appearance and whose own background and records are good, which would show them in a relaxed mood. For example, relaxing after dinner in lounge chairs in the recreation room at the Academy or on the doorstep where the plaque of the Academy is on the wall. Obviously, these men would be smoking.

[] would like to have his photographer and art director call at the Bureau on Tuesday of next week, April 8, to look over picture possibilities at the Academy and in the meantime we can be screening the current class for six or seven likely prospects to use in such a photograph. [] stated that we, of course, have the final O. K. of any advertisement draft they propose using but he would like to go this far in having his people come down to take several pictures which conceivably could fit into the ad.

Under these circumstances, I think we should continue to go along with [] and accordingly, we will take care of the photographer, Mr. [] (he has been to the Bureau previously) and the advertising contact man of Chesterfield, Mr. [] when they come to my office on April 8. I will have Mr. Kemper or Mr. Murphy escort these men to Quantico on that date and in the interim will look over the current session of the National Academy for the purpose of picking out six or seven men who can be used in this type of picture.
